

A part-time job can help you to:

- Make some income while studying
- Develop and gain work related skills such as Customer Service, time management, and teamwork abilities
- Demonstrate to an employer that you have the motivation, positive attitude and proven experience for the job which is very attractive to employers.

Where can I find a part-time job?

In this Guide you will find a list of some of the organisations where you can search for part-time jobs. Many part-time roles are also available locally, during summer or Christmas

Useful Tips

- Try and consider a job or employer, which is related to your future career choice so you can gain relevant experience.
- Almost all retailers now have an online application process, but it is still worth calling into stores with your CV – ask to see the Manager if possible.
- Make sure your CV is up-to-date and highlights your skills, experience and achievements while studying, undertaking work experience or voluntary work.
- Speak to family and friends and let them know you are looking for work as they may know of a suitable opportunity for you.
- If you are at University, there may be job opportunities such as student bar, university library or student support.
- Try and apply for as many jobs as you can to increase your chances of finding work.
- Consider voluntary work while you are looking for paid work, this will give you real work experience. You can find opportunities at <https://www.redbridge.gov.uk/young-people/redbridge-youth-hub/volunteering-and-work-experience/>
- Be well prepared for interviews – most companies will expect you to know about their products and services and have excellent customer service skills.
