Additional Response to issues raised by the Inspector of Redbridge Local Plan

Tall Buildings

I would like to participate in the meeting on 18th July to discuss tall buildings in light of the Grenfall Towers disaster it shows this strategy is fundamentally flawed . Besides being totally unsuitable for families needing 3 beds or more who are the main group in housing need in the borough they are fundamentally dangerous. Their height means evacuation would not be possible and given the deaths we cannot condemn more people to such a fate . This is in addition to problems already in the town centre with existing tall buildings which are contributing to dangerous situations since fire brigade cant reach some blocks due to parking blocking the routes .

I don't have time to elaborate but will do so on the day
